NOTES TO THE INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the first quarter ended March 31, 2026

Form No. B09a-DN

1.9 Explanation of other information in the Financial Statements as required by relevant laws such as corporate law, securities law, etc.

2. ACCOUNTING PERIOD AND CURRENCY USED IN ACCOUNTING

2.1. Accounting Period

The accounting year begins on January 1st and ends on December 31st.

2.2. Currency Used in Accounting. In case of a change in the accounting currency compared to the previous year, clearly explain the reason and the impact of the change.

The currency used in accounting is Vietnamese Dong (VND) because the majority of receipts and disbursements are conducted in VND.

3. PURCHASING STANDARDS AND APPLICABLE ACCOUNTING PROCEDURES

3.1 Applicable Accounting Standards and Policies

The Company applies the Corporate Accounting System issued under Circular No. 9/2025/TT-BTC dated 27 October 2025 by the Minister of Finance, providing guidelines on corporate accounting, along with related circular amendments.

3.2 Statement on Compliance with Accounting Standards and Accounting Regulations

The Board of Directors ensures compliance with the requirements of the accounting standards and the Vietnamese Corporate Accounting System issued under Circular No. 9/2025/TT-BTC dated 27 October 2025, as well as other relevant guidelines issued by the Ministry of Finance in preparing the financial statements.

4. ACCOUNTING POLICIES, ACCOUNTING ESTIMATES, AND RELEVANT LEGAL REGULATIONS APPLICABLE

4.1 Principles for converting financial statements prepared in foreign currency to Vietnamese Dong (in cases where the accounting currency differs from Vietnamese Dong); Impacts (if any) of converting financial statements from foreign currency to Vietnamese Dong.

4.2 Types of exchange rates applied in accounting.

Transactions denominated in foreign currencies are translated into Vietnamese Dong at the exchange rate on the transaction date. Balances of monetary items in foreign currencies at the end of the fiscal year are retranslated at the exchange rates on that date.

Exchange differences arising from foreign currency transactions during the year are recognized in financial income or financial expenses. Exchange differences from the revaluation of monetary items denominated in foreign currencies at the end of the fiscal year, after offsetting any gains or losses, are also recognized in financial income or financial expenses.

4.3 Principles for determining the effective interest rate (interest rate) used to discount cash flows.

4.4 Principles for recognizing cash and cash equivalents.

4.5 Accounting principles for financial investments

Investments held to maturity

An investment is classified as held to maturity when the Company has the intention and ability to hold it until maturity. Held-to-maturity investments include term deposits (including various forms of treasury bills and promissory notes), bonds, redeemable preference shares with a mandatory

NOTES TO THE INTERIM FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the fifth quarter ended March 31, 2026

Form No. B09a-DN

repurchase date in the future, loans held to maturity for the purpose of earning periodic interest, and other held-to-maturity investments.

Held-to-maturity investments are initially recognized at cost, which includes the purchase price and directly attributable transaction costs. After initial recognition, these investments are measured at their recoverable amount. Interest income from held-to-maturity investments after the purchase date is recognized in the income statement on an accrual basis. Any interest earned prior to the Company's acquisition is deducted from the investment's initial cost at the time of purchase.

If there is objective evidence indicating that part or all of an investment may not be recoverable and the loss can be reliably measured, the impairment loss is recognized as a financial expense in the year and directly reduces the value of the investment.

4.6 Accounting Principles for Accounts Receivable

Businesses must disclose accounting policies relating to accounts receivable and the significant basis for estimates used in the policy on provisions for doubtful accounts.

4.7 Inventories

Inventories are valued at cost. If the net realizable value is lower than the cost, inventories are stated at net realizable value. Inventory cost includes direct material costs, direct labor costs, and manufacturing overheads incurred to bring the inventories to their current location and condition. Net realizable value is determined as the estimated selling price in the normal course of business, less the estimated costs to complete and the marketing, selling, and distribution costs incurred.

Net realizable value is the estimated selling price of inventories during the normal production and business cycle, less the estimated costs to complete and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

Inventory values are calculated using the weighted average method and accounted for under the perpetual inventory system.

An allowance for inventory impairment is made for each inventory item whose cost exceeds its net realizable value. For unfinished services, the allowance is determined for each type of service with a distinct price. Increases or decreases in the balance of allowances for inventory impairment at the end of the fiscal year are recognized in the cost of goods sold.

4.8 Tangible Fixed Assets

Tangible fixed assets are presented at cost less accumulated depreciation. The cost of tangible fixed assets includes all expenses incurred by the Company to acquire the assets up to the point they are ready for use. Subsequent expenditures are capitalized only if they are expected to increase the future economic benefits derived from the asset. Expenditures that do not meet these criteria are recognized as expenses in the period they are incurred.

When a tangible fixed asset is sold or disposed of, its cost and accumulated depreciation are derecognized, and any resulting gain or loss is recognized in the income statement for the period.

Tangible fixed assets are depreciated using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives. The estimated useful lives for each type of tangible fixed asset are as follows:

Type of fixed assets	Years
Buildings, structures	10-25
Machinery and equipment	10-20
Means of transportation and transmitters	10
Instrument and tools for management	03-10

4.9 Principles of accounting for biological assets.

4.10 Principles of accounting for various types of business cooperation contracts.

4.11 Principles of accounting for deferred expenses.

Short-term deferred expenses are expenses to be allocated within a 12-month period, including operating expenses deferred corresponding to revenue in 2019.

Long-term prepaid expenses include actual expenses incurred but related to the business results of multiple accounting periods. The Company's prepaid expenses include the following:

Tools and equipment

Tools and equipment already in use are allocated to expenses using the straight-line method with an allocation period of no more than 3 years.

Industrial park land lease expenses

Land lease expenses for Nam Tan Uyen Industrial Park are allocated over a lease period of 518 months, equivalent to approximately 43 years.

Other accrued expenses

Other accrued expenses include asset repair costs, insurance costs, and other expenses that are accrued over a period of no more than 3 years.

4.12 Accounting principles for accounts payable to suppliers.

4.13 Accounting principles for dividends and profits payable.

4.14 Principles for recognizing accrued expenses.

Payables to suppliers, intra-company payables, other payables, and loans at the reporting date are classified as follows:

- Short-term liabilities: Payable within 1 year or within an operating cycle
- Long-term liabilities: Payable beyond 1 year or an operating cycle.

Accrued expenses are actual costs that have not yet been incurred but are provisionally recorded as production and operating expenses during the period to ensure that when the actual costs arise, they do not cause significant fluctuations in production and operating expenses. This is in line with the matching principle between revenue and expenses. When such expenses are incurred, any differences between the accrued amount and the actual expense are adjusted by recording additional or reduced expenses corresponding to the difference.

4.15 Principles for recognizing deferred revenue.

4.16 Principles for accounting for provisions for liabilities.

4.17 Principles for accounting for deferred corporate income tax.

4.18 Principles for recognizing loans and financial lease liabilities.

4.19 Principles for recognizing and capitalizing borrowing costs.

Borrowing costs must be recognized as production and business expenses in the period in which they are incurred, unless capitalized as prescribed.

Borrowing costs directly related to the investment in construction or production of assets under construction are included in the value of those assets (capitalized) when all the conditions stipulated in Accounting Standard No. 16 are met.

Borrowing costs directly related to the investment in construction or production of assets under construction are included in the value of those assets. Borrowing costs are capitalized when the business is certain to obtain future economic benefits from the use of the asset and the borrowing costs can be reliably determined.

4.20 Principles for recognizing convertible bonds.

4.21 Principles for recognizing equity:

Owner's capital contribution

Owner's capital contribution is recognized at the actual amount contributed.

Development investment fund

The development investment fund is established from after-tax profits as stipulated in the Company's charter.

4.22 Principles and methods for recognizing revenue and other income:

- Revenue from sales and provision of services

+ Revenue from sales.

+ Revenue from provision of services.

+ Revenue from construction contracts.

+ Revenue from the sale of real estate such as tourist apartments, office buildings combined with accommodation or similar products.

+ Revenue from the sale of investment properties.

- Revenue from financial activities;

- Other income.

4.23 Accounting principles for revenue deductions.

4.24 Accounting principles for cost of goods sold.

4.25 Accounting principles for financial expenses.

4.26 Accounting principles for selling expenses and administrative expenses.

4.27 Accounting principles for the sale and disposal of fixed assets and investment properties.

4.28 Principles and methods for recognizing current corporate income tax expense (including supplementary corporate income tax expense as stipulated by global minimum tax regulations) and deferred corporate income tax expense.

Corporate income tax expense includes current corporate income tax and deferred corporate income tax.

Current Income Tax

Current income tax is the tax calculated based on taxable income. The difference between taxable income and accounting profit is due to adjustments for temporary differences between tax and accounting, non-deductible expenses, as well as adjustments for non-taxable income and losses carried forward.

4.29 Other accounting principles and methods.
